

ITALIC LACE

Maurizio Galante & Tal Lancman, Siena 1440, the city and the year in which original lace items were made that provided the inspiration for this range of table accessories. Back then they were made with a crochet hook, now they are made using photogravure. They give a modern twist to an ancient version, a memory and style soundly based in the traditions of this part of Italy. This gave rise to "Italic Lace", a collection of refined placemats and coasters, designed for those who love to dress the table with elegance that is never casual. Finishes include shiny brass, glossy black, red and the more classical white.

Black painted brass coaster. Packed in 4 pieces.
