

EDAIRD

Marcelo Burlon,

Marcelo Burlon is the creator of Edaird, a mirror with a tribal flavour between Argentinian earth and sky. The County of Milan logo, originally a Tehuelche cross, updated by Bureau Borsche in 2019, represents the key to the universe and its door, but also a mountain reflected in a lake. A reflective symbol that in itself is already a mirror, characterised by the electric blue hue, the identifying colour of County of Milan, which adds depth to Edaird, i.e. Driade mirrored then read backwards, the name chosen to represent this vision. "When I founded County of Milan I started with T-shirts as a universal and democratic blank canvas through which to communicate my vision. In the almost 10 years of the brand I have had the opportunity to create not only clothing and accessories, but also fragrances, furnishing fabrics, cars and drinks. I am happy to have the opportunity to collaborate with Driade and venture into unexplored territories'. Marcelo Burlon
