

HIDALGO

Driadelab

For a unique and original interior design, eccentric yet extremely elegant, Hidalgo is a vertical sideboard with an unusual design, embodying Driade's codes and style for a contemporary home. Hidalgo is an atypical container: atypical in form, atypical in concept, atypical in its static nature. An extraordinary object that, while functional, possesses a distinctive and peculiar character that makes it closer to a sculpture than a piece of furniture. The cabinet features an irregularly shaped structure made of curved plywood, three hinged doors with a push-pull opening system, and fixed internal shelves. Hidalgo is a container with considerable internal capacity, capable of storing a multitude of objects.
